NEW YORK, Oct. 17.—The football horizon, viewed from the standpoint of the big university teams of the east, is unmarked by a single threatening cloud on the eve of the week-end games. Almost without exception the eleven of the leading institutions face teams the football ability of which is such that the contests scarcely rise above the plane of a practice match. In one or two cases minor college teams which a year ago seemed destined to meet the same opponents, but during the past twelve months have dropped to a mediocre standard and cannot hope to repeat the victories of 1912.

The United States Military academy appears to have drawn the hardest opponent of the day in Yale. The update collegians have been playing a fast game since the season opened with the home team against Cornell. Against Amherst and Harvard the Crimson ran up a combined score of 69 to 0, and the army in facing Stevens and Rutgers has not met a team capable of trying the soldiers out as Colgate may be expected to.

Face Weak Teams.

Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Cornell and Pennsylvania are all called upon to face much weaker teams than the West. Princeton will line up against Holy Cross in the first game of the season, while Yale is scheduled to play the second game of the season against Cornell. The Crimson has shown splendid play in its three games to date. Careless handling of the ball and lack of coordination in the backfield have been the chief faults of the Syracuse play in the contest this season. Pennsylvania will entertain the Brown university team, but the Quakers combination is but a shadow of the eleven which defeated the Quakers 30 to 7, in 1912. Colgate defeated Brown 10 to 0 on September 27 and last Saturday Ursinus held the same team to a one-touchdown victory.

Lehigh and Yale.

Lehigh will play Yale at New Haven and judging from the way the team held Carlisle to a 21 to 7 victory, should give the Blue a good battle, although the Elis have appeared to go back to Yale's first football principles and are succeeding reasonably well under original methods.

At Ithaca, Cornell will play Bucknell, which scored on Princeton a week ago. The Lewisburg team is one of the strongest of the minor Pennsylvania college eleven and will undoubtedly prove an excellent test as to the progress of Cornell under the coaching of Sharpe.

Two Promising Games.

In the second flight of eastern eleven the two most promising games are Lafayette vs. Swarthmore and Dartmouth vs. Williams. Lafayette and Swarthmore played, being defeated 10 and 29 to 0, respectively. Allowing for the weeks' improvement gained by Swarthmore before being called upon to face the Quakers, it would appear as though the two teams were about evenly matched. Both Dartmouth and Williams have defeated Vermont this season and, using that game as a basis of comparison, there appears to be a slight advantage in favor of Dartmouth. Williams defeated Vermont 29 to 0 on October 4 and Dartmouth beat the same team 23 to 0 on October 11. Williams, however, has the advantage of having played the strong Harvard team last Saturday and holding the Crimson in check until the final quarter of the game. Walker's ability to score via the aerial route also is a factor in the contest. The Carlisle-Pittsburg and Holy-Dickson games promise nothing out of the ordinary.

Test for Michigan.

A pretty severe test is in store for Michigan's team tomorrow. Yost's men, behind their usual shape at this time of year, tackle the Aggies from Lansing. The latter have been somewhat of a disappointment in their early games, but though they have lacked strength to advance the ball as rapidly as their leaders would like, their defense is reported good. Yost himself is reported busy as to the makeup of his backfield.

Combating a feeling of overconfidence among their men, Illinois coaches look upon tomorrow's game with Northwestern with just a trace of fear, say late reports from Urbana. The same historical fact that inspires dread among the down-state general tends to create optimism among the Evanston cohorts. For last year, after a drubbing by Purdue, Northwestern, in a reversal of form, trampled all over the Illini.

CHICAGO, Oct. 17.—Wisconsin's football team will meet Purdue tomorrow in a game regarded as a crucial combat for the Badgers and the most important scheduled for gridirons in the central states. Reports from Lafayette, the scene of the game, indicate tonight that the Boiler-makers' rudimentary football has reached a high state of development, while the team in which they swarmed Northwestern last Saturday testifies to their scoring ability.

Coach J. J. Moore's team, though composed of veterans, it is rumored, has been a bit backward in development. Energetic work by the coach this week has remedied some of the faults he and other critics found in the Badger machine. A team probably a good deal better than that which struggled with Marquette last Saturday will face Purdue.

After the manner of many eastern coaches, "Happy" Smith has emphasized at Lafayette the need of thorough acquaintance with the A. B. C.'s of football and to a team well grounded has imparted the tactics that have kept Pennsylvania in the van across the Alleghenies.

Nebraska Beats Minnesota.
Determined to put up a terrific fight against Minnesota, Nebraska's eleven wound up a week of grueling practice tonight. Coach Stettin, helped by a corps of "graders" so numerous that nearly every player on the Cornhuskers' squad had individual attention, has planned a battle against the Gophers down to the smallest detail. Despite the low scores made by Minnesota in the two previous games, supporters of the Gopher take comfort in Coach Williams' statement that he "believed they would win."

Guarded by a line now strong enough to draw words of confidence from Coach Stettin, Quarterback Russell, it was rumored on the Midway tonight, will prove a factor in tomorrow's game with Iowa with a recently developed capacity for drop kicking. Optimism over the outcome of the game was prevalent among Chicago rooters tonight, but hope for "good showing" is all that is expressed in Hawkeye people, despite their confidence that the Cornhuskers are likely to prove an effective ground game.

Creighton vs. Marquette.
OMAHA, Neb., Oct. 17.—The Marquette university football team tonight in Omaha tonight for their annual clash with Creighton university tomorrow afternoon.

Assistant Coach Hanley, who is in charge of the team, said: "The Creighton game is the one we have most to fear and if we are successful I have no doubt but that we can run through the rest of our schedule in fine style."

Coach Harry Miller of Creighton declared that if the season were advanced two weeks he would have no doubt of the outcome of the contest. As it was, he said, Creighton would make a hard fight to repeat her success of last year, when she defeated the Marquette eleven 20 to 6.

Both teams were put through a sharp signal practice on Creighton field this afternoon.

Missouri Is Ready.

COLUMBIA, Mo., Oct. 17.—The University of Missouri football team tonight is ready for the game with the eleven from Oklahoma here tomorrow. A light workout this afternoon put the Tigers on edge for tomorrow's contest. The coaches report all the men in great condition. There probably will be a wrangle before tomorrow's game on the question of eligibility of the Oklahoma backfield. It is said the three-year rule will interfere with the playing of three Oklahoma stars. The Oklahoma contingent arrived this afternoon.

Praises Harvard Team.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 17.—Today's issue of the Yale alumni weekly credits Harvard with having "unquestionably one of the most brilliant and strongest teams in her football history," and says Yale this year has a difficult task ahead of her on the gridiron.

"Princeton also has a remarkably fast and capable eleven," the college paper adds.

Light Signal Practice.

PRINCETON, N. J., Oct. 17.—A light signal drill was given the Princeton football eleven this afternoon for their final tuning up to meet Syracuse tomorrow. Captain Baker came in for a slice of placement kicking from the 15-yard line at all angles with fair success. Baker is being depended upon to do the punting. The lineup will be slightly altered in the game tomorrow, the principal change being the substitution of W. Swart at left guard in place of Heynolds. Swart will start at right end in place of Brown.

Injured Players Back.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 17.—Washington's eleven from Ames tomorrow look brighter tonight with the return of Milford, Lewis and Graham. Yesterday it was thought that the three big backfield men would be out of the game because of bruises, but tonight Coach Edmunds said he would start them against the Iowa players tomorrow. The Ames squad arrived this afternoon and appear to be in good shape.

Penn Works in Secret.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 17.—A signal drill lasting more than an hour behind closed gates and a short defensive drill in the forward pass made up the final workout of the University of Pennsylvania eleven today for the annual game with Brown on Franklin field tomorrow afternoon. The coaches say the Quakers are in prime condition and expect to get revenge for the defeats administered by the Providence collegians the last two years.

Lincoln Football Camp.

LINCOLN, Neb., Oct. 17.—Lincoln became a football camp tonight in anticipation of tomorrow's Nebraska-Minnesota game, popularly regarded as the hardest battle of the year on the Nebraska schedule. Followers of the game flocked to the city throughout the day and evening, and more will come tomorrow morning. Head Coach Williams, at the head of twenty-three husky Minnesota men, arrived tonight. He would make no prediction of the outcome of the game, but could not resist the temptation of referring to past battles between the two teams generally to the credit of the warriors of the north.

Banquet for Veterans.

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 17.—"Pat" Corbin, the captain of the famous eleven that twenty-five years ago rolled up 698 points against its opponents, has arranged for a dinner here next week of all the members of the team still living. It is expected that most of the regulars will be represented. The team then lined up as follows:

Harvard Has Cripples.

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Oct. 17.—Some of the regulars and first substitutes of the Harvard football squad will be unable to play against Holy Cross tomorrow because of injuries. Bettie will replace Bricker, who has a lame leg, at fullback. At quarterback Prendley will take the place of Bradley, who is nursing a sprained ankle. Hittelman, at tackle, will give way to Gilman. Mills, at left guard, another cripple, will be replaced by Cowen.

Drake and Kansas.

LAWRENCE, Kan., Oct. 17.—Drake and Kansas will play their annual football game here tomorrow on a muddy field. This is looked upon as an advantage to the visitors. The Drake squad, twenty strong, came in tonight and is in fine condition.

Iowa Ready for Fray.

CHICAGO, Ill., Oct. 17.—The University of Iowa football players reached here tonight for their game tomorrow with Chicago in good condition except Quarterback Parsons, who still is bruised from last Saturday's game. Coach Hawley said Cross would take Parsons' place if the veteran had to leave the game.

Reds Get Spittball Artist.

MONTREAL, Oct. 17.—Robert Bowman, a spittball pitcher, drafted by Montreal from Vancouver, was sold today to Cincinnati. He was part of the price paid by the Montreal club for McGraw.

Miss Marion Hollins and Miss Gladys Ravenscroft Are the Finalists.

WILMINGTON, Del., Oct. 17.—Though Miss Muriel Dodd holds the British and Canadian women's golf championships, she will have to go back to England without the American title.

This does not mean, however, that the American title is going to stay here in America. In fact, the play today in the semi-final round for the national championship at the Wilmington Country club makes a British victory seem probable.

Although crippled through the disarranging of Johnson, star right end, the eleven played Washington to a standstill against odds in weight.

A place kick made possible for Idaho. It was made in the latter part of the game. Straight football featured the contest, line plunges and short runs taking the place of the forward pass, which was seldom used.

Featherweights to Meet.
CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 17.—It was announced here today that Johnny Kilbane of Cleveland, the champion featherweight of the world, and "Knock-out" Nae of England had been called to meet in a ten-round boxing contest here on October 20.

JOHN M'DERMOTT IS WESTERN GOLF CHAMP

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Oct. 17.—Playing the same brand of sterling golf that marked his work on the first day, John J. M'Dermott of Atlantic City today won the western golf championship. His total of 295 has only twice been beaten in the western classic, Arthur Smith getting 218 at Columbus in 1905 and the late Willie Anderson making 288 at the Scottie club in 1909, both performances being accomplished over shorter courses than that of the Memphis course and under more favorable conditions.

M'Dermott's success netted him the championship medal and $300. Michael J. Brady of the Wollaston club, Boston, took second prize of $200, finishing with a total of 302, three strokes ahead of MacDonald Smith of Wilkesby, last year's champion. His prize was $100.

Otto Hackbart, the big Hinsdale player, got fourth money with a card of 306. Tom McNamara, the Massachusetts champion, took last money with a card of 309.

The special prize of $25 for the best round was divided by David Kober of Evanston and J. J. M'Dermott, each having a 12.

Today's rounds were played over an extremely heavy course, rain falling most of the day.

MIKE'S FRIENDS LOOK FOR GREAT COMEBACK

WITH THE Mc championship wrestling match between Chris Jordan and Mike Yokel still ten days away, the "comeback" story of this season may be heard most any time of the day around sporting houses.

On form and past performances, Jordan should be the favorite in the betting on this match, but contrary to the odds, Yokel won this match a big favorite when the men met on the mat a week from last Monday night. This state of affairs is so different from the fact that a majority of the local wrestling fans still look upon Yokel as being unbeatable and attribute his defeat last summer to lack of confidence and other life common to athletes who become so accustomed to winning that they think they do not have to win every stage of the game.

Heaven knows more than one boxer and wrestler and the most establishing part of it is that very few of them ever come back. Even those who do were not in condition when beaten. It generally takes the heart out of them and they find that the next time they meet the same man, he is their master.

Of course, in this match the local fans are expecting Yokel to do the "comeback" story with a vengeance, and it remains to be seen whether he will be the exception that proves the rule. Yokel is confident in his ability to do so and so are his friends, and he has thousands of them.

On the other hand, Jordan has beaten Yokel once and with that victory he has assumed an abundance of confidence, added to what he already had. That makes him feel he is ready to do it all over again, and he will be a tougher proposition than the contest he beat Yokel for the world's championship last summer. Yokel will have to be as good as he ever was in his life if he wins, and even then it is no clutch for the local Dutchman.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE TROUNCED BY IDAHO

SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.
MOSCOW, Ida., Oct. 17.—Washington State college went down to defeat before the University of Idaho eleven here this afternoon, by a score of 3 to 0. In one of the most exciting gridiron battles in the history of the two educational institutions.

HIGH SCHOOLS WILL FIGHT IT OUT

SALT LAKE AND OGDEN ELIMINATED TO MEET AT CUMMINGS FIELD.

The annual battle between the high school football eleven and Lake high school team will take place this afternoon on Cummings field, starting at 2 o'clock.

The Ogdens platoon, wearing a formidable lineup, beat the same team that represented the last year. Lon Romney, who has received broken bones, Captain Fern will play for the Junction City eleven.

Romney will spring many new tricks on the Salt Lakeers. Lon has evidenced good as coach and the work of the new men. The old line will be watched closely by the veterans of the former university star.

The Ogdens men are in good and Romney intends to use his lineup throughout the game. Coaches Henry Richardson and Penney gave the final instructions to the Ogdens players at the high school gymnasium at 1 o'clock. The local team is in quantity and the coaches are in the line. Later in the game will be shifted to right tackle and will be placed on left tackle. Lake Brough's place. Kilpatrick and Duncan will place new men in the line. The least sign that is slowing up.

The showing of the local team scrimmages has disappointed the side backers. The injury to Lake the star halfback, has lessened chances of a victory. He was one of the best backfield men played in the local school. An will be performed on him next. He has been having much trouble his side. Dr. H. N. Mayo, his physician, says the injury was not due to work.

Eligibility rules have been striven for by Principal George A. The football men have been galore the past week so they are in the games.

Manager Clarence Groschel of the team last night announced a list of tickets. A section of the game will be reserved for the visitors and local high school students will be placed in the local school. All students are expected to see the team today. They will leave on the noon train and upon arrival will go directly to the field.
